BURGLARS WERE AT WORK

Montgomery & Co's and Zellers' Stores Visited During Night

ENTERED REAR DOOR

Articles of Wearing Apparel, Suit Case and Cigars Taken From the Stores Robbed.

BEECH CREEK STORE ALSO ROBBED.

The Bellefonte police are looking for an apparent gentleman, dressed in one of Montgomery & Co's. high grade suits a good rain coat and carrying one of their leather suit cases. He may also be smoking one of Zellers Havana cigars.

These goods came into possession of the person who has them sometime during Monday night when entrance was gained to Montgomery & Co's, clothing store and Zellers' drug store.

The intruders found their way into the court in the rear of these stores and in both instances they broke the glass in the rear doors and unlocked them with the keys which were left in the locks. In the attempt to get into the Montgomery store the burglar cut himself on the broken glass and left the blood marks on the floor. At Montgomery & Co's. store the thief appropriated a suit case, rain coat, one or two suits of clothes and few other articles. They also tampered with the cash register but did not get any money as the cash drawers were empty and even unlocked. The mechanism of the register was damaged to some extent.

At Zeller's drug store the only thing missing was some cigars from the case. The thief was evidently in quest of money or was frightened away.

ROBBERY AT BEECH CREEK.

Sometime during Monday night burglars gained entrance to the store of F. Edward Sykes in Beech Creek by raising a window sash in the rear of the building.

Mr. Sykes handles a general line of clothing and gents' furnishings and carries an extensive line of jewelry and they made a large haul on the latter stock. Among the articles stolen were watches, watch movements, rings, razors, chains, etc. The owner places his loss at about $500. Several suspicious characters were seen in the town during the day and the robbery is credited to them. A widow with several children lives over the store but she did not hear any thing during the night. There is no clue to which way the robbers are traveling but the police in surrounding towns have been notified to be on the alert for suspicious looking personages.

Commencement at Howard

The graduating exercises of the class of 1908 of the Howard High school were held in the Methodist church at that place Thursday evening. The class this year was smaller than usual, there being only four members of the school who were given diplomas on this occasion. We give the program in part.

Invocation—Rev. W. W. Roods.
Oration—Breakers Ahead, Josephine Henderson.
Oration—He Who Wills, Can, Nellie Hopkins.
Oration—Trophies, Josephine Muffily.
Oration—Thus Ends Our First Lesson, Lula Schenck.
Address—Prof. Geo. D. Robb, principal of the Altoona schools.
Presentation of Diplomas—Z. T. Weirick, member of the board of directors.
Benediction—Rev. Rollin S. Taylor.

The program was interspersed with music by Christy Smith's orchestra, of Bellefonte. The church was handsomely decorated with flowers, evergreens and class colors, which were royal purple and gold. The class motto was "Fortuna favet fortibus."

Shuey—Grove.

Wednesday April 15th, 1908 at high noon, Mr. Dale L. Shuey and Miss Maude E. Grove both of Lemont were united in marriage by Rev. J. F. Hower pastor of the United Evangelical church of this place. Their numerous friends join in wishing them a prosperous journey over the matrimonial sea of life.

THE OFFICIAL COUNT.

Commissioners Have Completed Task of Counting Votes Cast at Saturday's Primaries.

Wednesday noon the county commissioners began the tedious task of counting the votes of last Saturday's primaries and Thursday afternoon gave out the exact vote cast for the numerous candidates. Both tickets remain the same as given in Wednesday's Daily and in the Republican. We give below the total county vote for each candidate.

Elaborate Easter Dinner.

Bellefonte is certainly to be congratulated on her good hotels of all grades, having fine beds and rooms and excellent meals at nearly any price you might wish to pay from 25 cents to 75 cents, it is the talk of the traveling men even though a few of the chronic kickers object to the late increase in rates of the principal ones. Special dinners on certain days are quite the pride of some of them. The Easter dinner at the Bush House on Sunday and the menu which follows is one that without any reservation whatever, is equal, if not better than the finest hotels all over the United States and up-holds Bellefonte's reputation of always wanting to be at the top. The card is a handsome special folder tied with ribbon. The menu follows:

DINNER

Blue Points
Green Turtle a L'anglaise
Celery Olives Sweet Pickles
Grilled Savannah Shad with Roe
Sliced Cucumbers Saratoga Chips
Boiled Capon, Sauce Supreme
Individual Chicken Pie
Small Peach Patties with Whipped Cream
Roast Ribs of Prime Beef au jus
Spring Lamb with Mint Sauce
New Potatoes New String Beans
Corn on the Cob
New Peas Cold Slaw

ACCIDENT AT A FUNERAL

Serious Mishap Under Most Solemn Conditions

SIX PERSONS INJURED

Hack Containing Mourners Overturned and Occupants Dropped Under Wrecked Vehicle

TWO OF THE VICTIMS MAY NOT LIVE

Baltimore, April 20.—Just after the starting of a funeral procession Sunday one of the hacks was overturned and six persons were injured, two of them seriously. The funeral was that of four-year-old Bertha L. Hoffman and the injured include her father, mother, and sister, who, with two others, were in the hack immediately following the hearse. Just how the accident occurred no one seems able to say, but when the vehicle turned over on its side the horses became unmanageable and smashed the back of the hearse.

Catherine Hoffman, aged nine years, was taken from beneath the other four persons in the overturned hack with her chest crushed and her body a mass of bruises. The physicians are unable to say at present whether she will probably survive.

Edward Eck, aged 38 years, in attempting to quiet the struggling horses, was knocked down and trampeled by one of them. His head and face were badly cut and one of his eyes was almost torn from the socket. He was removed to his home nearby, in an unconscious condition. The little body of Bertha Hoffman was finally taken to the cemetery accompanied by a single hack, the occupants of the others that had formed the procession having abondoned them in the excitement following the accident.

Easter With the Children.

A very pretty happening incident with the Sunday School service of the Episcopal church Sunday morning was the floral tribute part of the service that was put in by the Rev. John Hewitt. After the main service the children who had all been requested to bring a small flower, were called up to the chancel by the minister, who had a wire cross provided filled with damp moss and these cut floral contributions of the children were inserted until the cross was filled, making a very pretty decoration, which was then sent out to the childrens ward at the hospital. At the completion of the services before dismissal he announced a surprise for them and had each child walk by the chancel and every one was handed a beautiful flowering potted plant to take home.

REFORMED CHURCH.

As a culmination to the Holy Week services in the St. John's Reformed church Easter Sunday was fittingly observed by that congregation. The morning service was taken up in the reception of members and in Holy Communion. Eleven persons were confirmed and two admitted to membership by certificate. The number of Communicants on the occasion was larger than at any other time during the present pastorate which was very gratifying to Rev. Schmidt. The Children's Easter festival in the evening was also a service that was very appropriate to the day and one that was largely attended. The church was handsomely decorated for these Easter services. The communion and self-denial offerings which are appropriated to the various benevolences of the church, amounted to about $130.

Suicide Near Philipsburg.

Mrs. William Clark of Graham Station, who has been mentally affected for several months, committed suicide, presumably Tuesday morning, by hanging herself to the barn rafters and using a sheet to accomplish her purpose.

As usual Mr. Clark went to work early in the morning and returned shortly after one o'clock. Not finding his wife at home he supposed she had gone to Philipsburg or to visit friends which was customary for her to do. In the evening about 7 o'clock while doing the chores he opened the door leading to the barn loft and was horror struck to find his wife hanging to the rafters. She was 61 years of age and besides her husband is survived by one son and one daughter.

TWO NOTABLE WEDDIN GS

CURTIN—HARRIS.

A notable but quiet wedding took place when Mr. J. Mac Curtin and Miss Adeline Harris were united in marriage. The words that joined this couple for life were said by Rev. John Hewitt at 11:30 o'clock in the St. John's Episcopal church. No invitations were issued for the wedding, the ceremony being witnessed only by the immediate members of the family and was devoid of all ostentation.

After the wedding breakfast the couple departed on the 1:23 train for eastern cities on a brief honeymoon tour. Both bride and groom are well known persons and quite prominent in social circles. They have the wishes of their many friends as they enter their matrimonial life.

BLANCHARD—MERRIMAN.

Plain, quiet and unostentatious were the ceremonies attendant upon the marriage of Mr. John Blanchard and Miss Adelaide Merriman, which happy event occurred at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the St. John's Episcopal church. Rector John Hewitt said the words that made them man and wife. The bride was attired in a dark blue tailored traveling gown and carried white gardenias and white carnations. She was unattended. The groom wore the conventional dress and was attended by his brother Edmund Blanchard as best man. No invitations were issued and only the members of the immediate families and a few intimate friends were present to witness the tieing of the neptual knot.

The newly married couple departed on the 4:40 train on a two weeks wedding tour after which they will return to Bellefonte and take up their residence on Linn street in the house recently vacated by L. T. Munson. Both parties are so well known as not to need comment and they have the well wishes of their host of friends in Bellefonte.

GEORGE REISH KILLED.

Aged Gentleman Struck by Train Tuesday Noon

While walking on the Pennsylvania railroad track near the water tank just north of the passenger station, George Reish, was struck by the east bound passenger train and instantly killed.

We are informed that Mr. Reish has a sister, Mrs. Staunk, living near the quarries and it is supposed he was on his way to the station to go to his home in Centre Hall. The engineer blew the whistle as a warning for the man to get out of the way, but before he could clear the tracks he was struck by the engine and so badly injured that death was instant.

The head of the unfortunate man was badly crushed and his lower limbs horribly mangled. The passenger train was stopped and the bruised and mangled form placed in the the baggage car and taken to the baggage room at the station.

Policeman Beezer examined the dead man's coat pocket for any letters or papers that might lead to his identity and found letters addressed to "George Reish, Centre Hall, Pa." A description was at once telephoned to that place and it was learned that a man answering that description was well known there.

He was a man about 60 years of age, clean shaven, except chin whiskers, and wore a blue coat. A relative stated that Reish was not not hard of hearing and it is supposed that he became bewildered when the alarm sounded.

Mr. Reish's wife is dead but he has several married daughters and one son that we could learn of.

The remains of George Reish who was killed on the railroad were taken to the undertaking rooms of F. E. Naginey where they were prepared for burial. The body was then taken to the home of Mrs. Wm. Strunk near the American Lime and Stone Co's quarries and from there will be taken to Centre Hall for interment. Coroner Fisher held an inquest Wednesday morning and the principle witness was Engineer Carson who was running the engine which struck and killed Reish.

Two Men Shot at Chester.

A special telegram from Chester Friday afternoon stated that two men, Claim Agent W. B. Griesmier and Conductor William Bergamen, were shot by strike sympathizers when the Chester Traction Company attempted to resume operations this morning after a hand to hand conflict. The strikers completely routed the strike breakers. No cars are running.

POSTMASTERS CONVENTION

Two Hundred in Attendance at First Meeting.

GOVERNOR RECEIVES.

Prominent Officials Deliver Addresses to First Annual Gathering of Pennsylvania's Postmasters.

OFFICERS WERE ELECTED TODAY.

Harrisburg, April, 22nd.—Over 200 postmasters from all parts of Pennsylvania gathered here Tuesday for the first state convention of postmasters and after hearing addresses were given a reception by Governor Stuart at the Capitol. Postmaster E. J. Stackpole, of Harrisburg was elected temporary chairman and J. F. Naugle of Meyersdale secretary.

Postmaster Isadore Sobel of Erie, reporting for the committee on program, in place of Major Davis of Pittsburg, who is detained from the meeting because of a death, said that the order of printed program would be changed somewhat.

Chairman Stackpole who had conferred with various members of the association regarding the committees, and Mr. Nagle had all the committees filled by noon.

The one address of the morning was delivered by Hon. Henry D. Temple, assistant superintendent of the registered mails, who spoke on registered mails and second class matter.

Civil Service Commissioner Henry G. Green, spoke in the afternoon on "The National Civil Service Commission and It's Work," especially in relation to postal service.

At 4 o'clock Governor Suart received the delegates, Mr. Stackpole presenting them.

At the evening session Hon. C. P. Granfield assistant Postmaster General and Hon. F. E. McMillan chief post office inspector of Washington, D. C., spoke respectively on "The City Delivery," and "The Parcels Post and Postal Savings Banks."

Hon. W. R. Spillman superintendent of rural delivery, Washington, spoke at this morning's sessions on "The Rural Delivery System." He was followed by Hon. J. T. Cortelyou, inspector in charge, Philadelphia, who addressed the convention on the Inspection Service.

J. J. Vogel, secretary of the Civil Service Board, third district, Philadelphia was present and took part in the morning discussions. The first annual election took place this forenoon.

A Realistic Play.

The presentation of "The Holy City" at the opera house Tuesday evening was one of the most beautiful and meritorious plays of the season. In every respect the play was well staged, the costumes rich and apporiate, the cast a capable one and the scenery realistic. It was a chaste and instructive production of the great bibical story and appeals alike to the intellectual and emotional side of human nature, the lines being rich with the beautiful imagery and sentiment of the scriptures. The play demands the best articulation, enunciation and elocutionary power and in this the entire cast was exceptionally good, thus heightening the effect of the lines.

The parts of John the Baptist, Elizabeth, Marius and Salome were exceptionally well played as was also that of King Herod. This wholesome and uplifting play was witnessed by a good sized audience.

At Hymen's Altar.

Mr. Andrew C. Barger of Curtin and Miss Minnie Hayes of Howard, were married on Sunday by the brides pastor Rev. Rollin S. Taylor. They went to Curtin on the evening train where the groom makes his home. Miss Hayes was one of Howard's well known young ladies and their many friends join in wishing them a life of bliss and happiness.

Mr. Cornelius O'Brien of Williamsport and Miss Mary M. Flack of Bellefonte, were united in marriage in the St. John's Catholic church Tuesday morning by the Rev. Father McArdle. The bride is a well known Bellefonte lady and has received the congratulations of her many friends.

COUNCIL MEETING.

Regular Semi Monthly Meeting of the Boro Law Makers.

The regular semi-monthly session of council was held on Monday evening at 7:30 with President Judge in the chair and the following members present: Shuey, Wagner, Musser, Harper, Kirk, Hamilton.

After reading the minutes council proceeded to discuss the business before it.

Sigmund Joseph and Jared Harper both notified council of their acceptance of their appointment as members of the Board of Managers of the Pruner Orphanage.

David Miller and John G. Dubbs of Bush Addition asked that water be extended out to Bush Addition promising that eight, probably sixteen property owners would take the water if council granted their request.

A large number of side walks that are in a bad condition were reported to council. The Warren Burnside property on Logan street is reported in a bad condition.

Mr. Harper of the Fire and Police committe reported that they tested the hose at the Undine house and found in bad condition. They recommended the purchase of eight hundred feet of hose five hundred for the Undines and three hundred for the Logans.

The committee's report was accepted and the purchase of the hose ordered.

The committee appointed to investigate the Yeager Swing Company's claim for damages reported progress.

An arc light is to be installed on Logan street at the intersection of Penn street. It is to take the place of two incandescent lights on that street.

Committee reported progress on the American Union Telephone Compay request for permission to put their telephone wires underground on Allegheny street.

The petition for extension of water to the borough line to give residents of Bush Addition was referred to Water committee with power to act.

The Fire and Police committee was given power to dispose of the old hose on hand to the best advantage.

The following bills were approved and orders drawn.

Street Pay Roll	$65.00
" " "	31.00
Police Pay Roll	52.50
Edward K. Rhoads	1.05
" " "	4.87
Water Works Pay Roll	56.50
W. T. Kelley 1 month as clerk	12.50

Odd Fellows Day Program.

The program for the celebration of the anniversary of Odd Fellowship in America at Shamokin April 28 according to the official bulletin is as follows: The association meeting will be held in the hall of Shamokin lodge at 11 a. m. The parade will form at 2 p. m., headed by the Patriarchs Militants and move by Grand Master S. H. Hart and others. Immediately after the parade a special session of the grand lodge will be held at 7:30 p. m. for the lodge of instruction for all third degree members at 8.00 p. m. A special session of the grand encampment will be held at 7 p. m. in Mt. Tabor lodge hall. The president will be present and hold a special session of the Rebekah assembly at 7:30 p. m. in James A. Garfield's hall, to confer the assembly degree, and there will be a school of instruction at 3 p. m.

Headquarters for association officers, grand lodge officers and chief marshal will be at the Windsor hotel; headquarters for the Daughters of Rebekah at the Eagle hotel; headquarters for Patriarchs Militant at the Graemar. The equipment will be transferred free to Mt. Tabor lodge rooms. Ample provision will be made to entertain all visitors. Hotels and restaurants, Rebekah lodges, and churches, will give good meals at reasonable rates.

A Commendable Record.

William Huff Salmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Salmon of Beech Creek township is a member of the senior class at Pennsylvania State College and will graduate on June 17, in mechanical engineering department. Young Salmon has made an exceptionable record while in that institution. He has never failed in an examination and will complete his course in four years when it usually takes five years. The faculty of that institution give him the greatest praise for the excellent work he has done.

This young man is certainly to be congratulated for his industry and successful application to his studies, and it is to be expected that his scholarship will be rewarded by well merited success following his school days.—Clinton Democrat.

STUART ORDERS STATE POLICE

Attempt to Run Car Causees Serious Riot at Chester

TWO MEN WERE SHOT.

Local Authorities Unable to Cope With the Situation Call on Governor for Aid

WORST DISTURBANCE DURING STRIKE

Harrisburg, April 17th.—Shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon a joint telegram was received by Governor Stuart from the mayor and chief of police of Chester and the sheriff of Delaware county, stating that the local authorities were unable to cope with the disorder in that city and asking for a detail of State police. The Governor at once communicated with Superintendent Groome of the State police instructing him to send to Chester as soon as possible a sufficient number of State police to maintain order and protect life and property. Captain Groome, being familiar with conditions at Chester was told to use his own judgement as to how many men to send.

The most serious disturbance which has marked the strike of the motormen and conductors of the Chester Traction Company occured early today when two employes of the company were shot but not badly injured.

The company attempted to operate a car and William Borgmarn the motorman was shot in the foot during an attack on the trolley by a large crowd of strike of sympathizers.

Shortly before William Griesemer, a claim agent of the company, was shot in the leg while leading a squad of 40 men who had been imported to take the places of the strikers to the car barn. In the band to hand fight with the strikers which ensued the imported workers were routed and driven to shelter in the barn.

A strong detachment of police rushed up and after much effort succeeded in driving the crowd back. The police roped off the street adjacent to the barn and are now on guard about the building.

President Rigg, of the Chester Traction Company, telephoned to Governor Stuart at Harrisburg today and requested that a regiment of the State Militia be ordered here.

Attorneys representing the company had an interview with Mayer Johnson and at its conclusion reported to Mr. Rigg so the officials of the company say, that the mayor has admitted his inability to cope with the situation, but that he hesitated to call upon the state police.

Prior to calling Governor Stuart on the telephone, Mr. Rigg called Superintendent John C. Groome of the state police on the telephone at Philadelphia and recommended a force be sent to Chester. Superintendent Groome replied that he could do nothing without the consent of Mayor Johnson.

Sheriff McClure of Delaware county, in which Chester is located, is on his way from Atlantic City to Chester in response to a telephone request from President Rigg who informed the sheriff that the situation was beyond the control of the municipal authorities. President Rigg stated that no further attempt will be made to operate the cars until protection is obtained, either from the state police or the militia.

A mob of fully 1,000 men stood guard near the trolley barns at day-break awaiting a move on the part of the traction officials, and when the first car was attacked and the strike-breakers by the appearance of about forty strike breakers in charge of Griesemer, the crowd became furious.

A Saving in Road Taxes.

The Good Roads association of Lycoming county is doing a great deal for the improvement of their roads and strongly advocates the use of the King split log road drag. Centre county has a great many dirt roads which are costly to maintain and the following item from the Williamsport Sun ought to cause some of the supervisors to sit up and take notice.

The board of supervisors of Mifflin township have joined in a communication of commendation to Secretary Gibson, of the Lycoming County Good Road Association, concerning the split road drag and its achievement upon the roads of that section. So pronounced has the benefit already been that Smith Lovell, one of the members of the Mifflin township's board, expresses it as his opinion that by next year a four mill reduction can be made on the road tax of the township. Christian Siegel, chairman of the board, adds his testimony to the effectiveness of the work done by the drag. He declares that with the proper attention and the use of the drag at such times as is known to be best, better work can be done than by old methods, and at half the expense.

The fellow who plows a clean straight furrow is quite likely to be straight in some other respects.

A cement walk costs but a trifle more than a substantial plank walk of the same dimensions and will outlast it many times.

A pretty accurate lineup on the ability and financial standing of a farmer can be secured by a glimpse at the kind of fences he has on his place.

The real womanliness and thoughtfulness of a woman may be called in question who will request or allow a dead song bird to be placed on her hat.

There is one thing that is a trifle more exasperating than having your flower beds scratched to pieces by your own hens, and that is to have your neighbor's hens do the same job.

The anonymous letter writer and the dog poisoner belong to the same cowardly company, both engaging in enterprises for which they do not care to assume responsibility.

Poultry that is confined should be provided with an abundance of charcoal, oyster shell and grit. When running loose the fowls will get these elements or their equivalents of their own accord.

In the last analysis one will reap the largest and most lasting results for himself in that undertaking in which he contributes most generously to the happiness and well being of those to whom he ministers.

In justice to his neighbors the man who lives in town should not keep chickens unless he puts himself in shape to keep them shut up. If they are allowed to run loose, neighborly relations are quite likely to be strained.

We have known of cases where if the lord of the house had worked more assiduously with buck and saw at the wood pile and emptied and filled more pails he would have had both less time and less inclination to find fault with the way the women folks were running the house.

Where one understands the proper recipes for making the different kinds of cement for the various farm uses any enterprising farmer or farmer's boy can manufacture his own cement blocks, make water trough, hogpen floor or construct the walks about the house provided only that a supply of sand and gravel is at hand.

In keeping track of the family expenses it is well to have all items of merchandise charged, with payments monthly or quarterly, or pay cash for all items as soon as ordered. Where a mixed system of payment is followed there are likely to be confusion and more or less misunderstanding as between patron and merchant.

While the clearing up of the patches of small trees and brush along the roadsides and fence rows and in the pastures may tend to improve the landscape from the aesthetic point of view, it means the destruction of just so many places of shelter for the bird life of the locality, which is an even more important consideration than the improving of the landscape.

A recent bulletin issued by the forest service contains the interesting facts that, while France and Germany have but 14,500,000 acres of state forests as against the national forest reserves in this country of 160,000,000, these two countries spend annually on their forests $11,000,000 and get from them in net returns $30,000,000, while the United States spends but $1,400,000 and secures a paltry return of less than $150,000.

Feeding experiments conducted by different experiment stations as well as by individual feeders show that a very satisfactory ratio for the cow in milk is four quarts at a feed twice a day of a mixture of 100 pounds bran, 100 pounds middlings and 100 pounds gluten meal. An equally good one is the same quantity at a feed of the following mixture: A hundred pounds ground oats and corn, 100 pounds bran and 50 pounds gluten meal.

Weeds never die so easily as when they are "just a-bornin'," and for this reason there is no method that is more effective in destroying them than the judicious use of a harrow in the cornfield or potato patch the week following the time of planting. Often good results are secured if a cultivation is given just as the young plants are coming through the ground, but before there is a spread of leaf. As soon as another lot of weed seed has started to germinate these ridges may be harrowed lightly to advantage and in the case of potatoes harrowing may be given as late as two weeks after the plants have come through the ground.

Being behindhand is more largely a matter of mere habit than necessity, being much more easily encouraged than discouraged when once formed. With many it is to quite an extent responsible for the fact that they never get ahead in the world.

One beauty about a good system of tiling is the fact that, while it makes the land through which it runs arable in a wet season, it does not dry it out too much in a dry season, as a mellow condition of soil prevails that tends to prevent a baking of the surface.

The children in the home enjoy a balanced ration as well as do the animals in the feed lot or stable. Such a ration is pork and beans, boiled potatoes and brown bread, poached egg on toast, good graham bread and Jersey milk; roast pork, dressing and baked potatoes and apple sauce; roast beef, mashed potatoes and pie.

An even and tractable disposition in a horse is often spoiled by improper handling and training, as is often the case with the strong willed and wide awake boy or girl. The very qualities which make the child or horse most useful and valuable if properly trained make them the more difficult to manage if they are not properly handled in the early stages.

The wife of the famous musician Paderewski has within the past month purchased four single combed White Orpingtons, for which he paid the enormous sum of $7,500. It was a hen of this same strain that scored ninety-seven points at the Jamestown exposition, being valued by her owners at $2,500. These men certainly need no argument to prove that it pays to raise pure bred poultry.

There is a type of folks that are as tender hearted as can be in their relations to and treatment of dumb animals who are seemingly calloused when it comes to hurting the feelings of their own folks or circulating a false report which may besmirch the good name of a neighbor or acquaintance. The first named trait is a most commendable one, but should not be divorced from the higher type of benevolence.

A recent government bulletin on crop production in European countries states that the average crop obtained from an acre of potatoes in Germany is $40 and from an acre of sugar beets $55, while wheat yields $29 and rye but $21 per acre. In France the acre value of hops reaches $153, of tobacco $93 and of sugar beets $47 against only $21 for wheat. In the Netherlands the gross return per acre of wheat, $26, is surpassed by the returns from tobacco, $213, potatoes $74 and sugar beets $52.

In the face of the great scarcity of help in many of the rural sections of the country the girls and women in the home are frequently of necessity called upon to help out at busy seasons of the year. While this is perfectly proper, provided they have the time to spare and while the outdoor exercise they would get would undoubtedly be beneficial, it is well to favor the young and immature girl and not impose upon her tasks that are beyond her strength. Often an injury is done the child unwittingly that may remain for years. The fact that the girl may be ready and willing to help should be taken as a reason for extra precaution.

The enterprising merchants of one western town that we read of the other day have arranged to offer substantial prizes to those farmers whose land adjoins the main thoroughfares leading into the city who shall keep the section of road next their places in the best condition with the King road drag. While the move is rightly termed a public spirited one, the merchants have figured that the improved condition of the roads will tend to increase the travel into town and the business resulting therefrom sufficiently to reimburse them for the expense they may incur in providing the prizes in question. The move is thus a piece of farsighted, wholesome selfishness.

We Americans might be a deal more hospitable than we are if we were only content to entertain our neighbors and friends upon a more modest and simple scale. Too often it is the case that when the company is gone the good housewife heaves a sigh of relief, which may be usually interpreted to mean that she is pretty well tired out and right glad that the ordeal is over with. While it is much easier to say than do, the having of company ought to result in change and a recuperation rather than a depletion of strength and vitality. And shall this order of things is brought about the largest service that we can render our friends or that can be rendered us by our friends will be impossible of realization.

If the small grain that is to be used for seed is infected with smut, the best method of correcting the difficulty is to treat it with a formalin solution. Where regular machines for this purpose are not available very satisfactory results can be secured by spreading the grain in a pile about eight inches deep on the barn or grahary floor and sprinkling it thoroughly with a solution made by mixing one half pint of formalin with twenty-five gallons of water. After the sprinkling is done the pile of grain should be shoveled over thoroughly so that each kernel of grain will be sure to get moistened. When the pile has been allowed to remain in this condition two hours, it should be shoveled over again several times and scattered out so as to dry. The treatment should be given if possible within twenty-four hours of seeding.

NOT ENOUGH FEED.

There seems to be little question that a good many dairy cows work at a disadvantage and do not bring their owners the return they might simply because they are not given a ration sufficiently large above that required to maintain their physical organism. Details of a test case in which this point was nicely brought out have lately been published by the experiment station at Cornell university at Ithaca, N. Y. A cow which had been kept by a farmer in the vicinity for some five years, during which time the average yearly cost of feed had been $28 and the average return from milk sold but $25, was taken in charge by the station directors and for a considerable period fed on a ration which cost $32 per year. With this feed she gave a return during the year of $38. Thus instead of being kept at a loss of $3 per year she yielded a return of $6. Of course it is seen at a glance that the animal in question was a very poor stick to start with, but at the same time with the former feeding she used so much of her ration in keeping her organism in operation that there was nothing left as a margin of profit. It should be noted that an increase of feed of $4 per year resulted in an increased return of $13. It is safe to say that at least 30 or 40 per cent of the dairy cows of the country, as a whole, are kept at a positive loss and couldn't be made revenue producers under any system of feeding. On the other hand, it is also quite likely true that a good many animals are kept at a trifling gain or dead loss simply because they are not given a large enough ration. The determination of the point in question is an easy one and can be ascertained by any dairyman who will carefully measure his feed and measure and test the milk from the individuals in his dairy herd.

PAYING BY CHECK.

A friend of the writer who came in to pay an account the other day hauled a check book out of his pocket with the remark that for the past two years he had paid all his bills by check and found the system a most satisfactory one. The check method of payment has several strong arguments in its favor and should be more generally employed. In the first place, where accounts are paid thus, the check made payable to order, with the payee's signature indorsed on the back, it serves as a receipt for the amount, while the stub in the hands of the payer states for what purpose the check was drawn. Again, with this system the bank keeps one's books and is glad to do so in return for the additional circulating medium which is thus placed in its hands. If a fellow loses his pocketbook and a dishonest person finds it there is always a loss of silver or paper currency which cannot be identified or recovered; if his check book, no one can get money through it except by forging the owner's name, which is a penitentiary offense. Finally the check system gives one a complete record of expenditures and enables him to learn by a review of his accounts at the end of the year just where his money has gone, a record that is likely to be very uncertain and hazy when he uses the cash system and does not keep a careful record of the same. Of course the check system presupposes a bank account, in the accumulation of which the individual ought not to need particular urging.

PANCAKES AND SWILL TANKS.

As showing the obstacles which the average buttermaker has to contend with in the matter of carelessness or right down filthiness on the part of patrons in the handling of their milk and cream, a friend who has the responsible position of buttermaker in a co-operative creamery which is patronized by some 500 farmers cited an instance which would seem ample to account for almost any methods the mind could conjure up when it came to caring for things in the dairy. The patron in question went to the creamery to get a small pail full of buttermilk for cooking, but on this particular occasion the can in which it was kept sweet and fresh from the churn was empty. Nothing daunted, our friend, who, by the way, is baching it, went to the pump outside, which leads to an underground tank containing buttermilk of all degrees of ripeness, pumped his pail full, took it home and made soda pancakes out of it. No use looking for "western extras" from creameries patronized by this kind of cattle.

A MISERABLE TYPE OF FRAUD.

If there is a type of fraud anywhere that ought to be discountenanced and squelched in every way possible, it is that which is plied so extensively among the clerks to be found in many of the larger cities by sharpers in the employment of numerous real estate, mining and investment companies. While the victims are often men, they are not so numerous as women, who, having less business experience and being more unsuspecting and confiding, often lose their entire earnings in these fake investment enterprises. If one is in a salaried position and has an amount of money to invest, before taking stock in any enterprise it would be well to ask the advice of the most reliable and conscientious banker or business man of one's acquaintance, who will in all probability be able to determine from the character of the concern whether the proposition is a safe one to invest in. If ventures of this kind were really good, the persons of small means would hardly be allowed to get in on the ground floor.

A Very Busy Man.

A school inspector went to investigate the case of a man who, although he could well afford to keep his children at school, had obtained labor certificates for them all and was taking frequent holidays while the poor little fellows worked to keep the home on.

To his wife's plea that the youngsters' wages were useful when "feyther" was out of work the inspector replied:

"A mere quibble, ma'am. Your husband has constant work, but is too lazy to do it. His employer told me so."

"Then it's a wicked story, and I'm not particular who hears me say it!" cried the woman indignantly. "My husban' is the busiest man in England, bar none. Why, he was up at daybreak this mornin' teachin' my youngest lad to swim, an' he's walked ten miles across plowed fields to fly a pigeon an' won a bounce ball contest an' a boxin' match since dinner, an' now, to wind things up," she added as a final proof of her husband's amazing industry, "he's down in the wood yonder trainin' his dog to catch an' kill rabbits without leavin' the marks of his teeth on 'em. If you want more work than that crowded into a day, you must be a regular nigger driver."—London Tit-Bits.

When Buttons Were Big.

Bachaumont writes in his "Secret Memoirs," Nov. 18, 1786: "The mania for buttons is today extremely ridiculous. They are not only of enormous size, some of them as big as six pound crowns, but miniatures and pictures are made upon them, and this ornamentation is extremely costly. Some of them represent the medals of the twelve Caesars, others antique statues and still others the Metamorphoses of Ovid."

Isabey, in his biographical notes, says that when he came to Paris he worked for a living by making copies of Vanloos and Bouchers on the lids of snuffboxes and that for these medallions he was paid from 6 to 8 francs each. "As it was still the fashion," he said, "to wear buttons as big as a five franc piece, upon which Cupids, flowers and landscapes were cut in cameo, I went into that business. I got 12 sous for each."—Paris Figaro.

Why Some Countries Are Uninhabited

A mere glance at our maps impresses a few general facts upon us. We see that the largest areas of the unknown are now in lands that are too dry, as in the Sahara, the desert of Arabia, and the steppes of Mongolia; lands that are too wet and hot, stimulating almost impenetrable forest growths, as in parts of the Amazon and Kongo basins; lands that are too cold and bleak, as portions of the northern areas of America and Asia. Even the characteristics of the inhabitants influence the extent of the unexplored. In proportion to total area there is more unknown surface in Liberia than in any other political subdivision of the world, because the Liberians, content to live along the coast, have scarcely entered their vast forest maze, though they teem with rubber and other resources.—Cyrus C. Adams in Harper's.

Delays Are Dangerous.

"But this is so sudden! You had better give me a week to think it over!"

"Very well, dear. And, perhaps, it would be as well if I thought it over myself at the same time!"—Sketching Bits.

Breaking In.

Mother—Dear me, the baby has swallowed a piece of worsted. Father—That's nothing to the yarns she'll have to swallow if she lives to grow up.

What I Got.

For the first time in fifteen years I went on a trout fishing excursion along the Logan Branch, Wednesday more than anything else for the sake of my good friend Burns Crider who has been urging me for some time to go with him as I did at this time. I had very little faith in my capacity, fishing for trout and the results are accordingly.

So many of my many friends will want to know what I got that I seize a few moments to tell some of them in these columns. I got plenty of good exercise in the open air, I got a good circulation of blood. I got a good appetite. I went so fast up stream that I suddenly found myself trespassing on the premises of the State Fish Hatchery at once I got quickly into a back-sliding condition going rapidly down stream and I got off those premises soon as possible. Getting off the A. M. train at Pleasant Gap about the first thing I saw was a puddle of water coated with ice. All of the few fishermen I saw, and more who weren't fishermen said "It's too cold, too cold" and I was glad I had so good an excuse for the little success I had anticipated.

With a l my getting i got understanding enough to return home and give attention to my regular business especially one small branch in our suburban village of Coleyville. There is so little competition or rather opposition there that we expect an unusual advance in prosperity at that point this opening season.

We keep in good humor with no bitterness of feeling or expression. The largest room we have there for business will soon be so filled to its utmost capacity for our successful operations that even about all the little children with scarcely one exception are delighted with their prospects for a good time coming. Immanuel, God with us, we expect to come off more than conquerors through Jesus Christ who strengtheneth us."

Old Coins Found.

The workmen on the Farmers' Hotel site, in Huntingdon, which is being cleared of its ruins and debris, have been finding some rare old coins which they have placed on exhibition and likewise on sale at Smith's book store, opposite the post-office.

Twenty-three coins are in the collection, which were all found in one spot on Friday afternoon. The oldest coin of the collection which appears to be either a German or an Italian piece of money, bear the date of 1706. The coins are dated from that year up to 1888, of which there are two of the nickles which have not the word "cents" on them. These nickles were coined only during a short period of that one year as by gilding them, they could be passed for $5.00 gold pieces.

A bunch of old letters, as well as some of the old documents which were in the possession of Justice of the Peace Kelly, when he had his office in this building, were also unearthed.

WIFE'S LOVER SHOOTS HUSBAND.

Clearfield Town has a Tragetic Murder on Friday.

IN SEEKING REVENGE.

Husband who had not Lived With wife For Two Years was Shot by Her Paramour.

IT TOOK PLACE NEAR SMOKE RUN

Sol. McCnlly of Ramey, was in town Friday enroute to Clearfield, having in custody Jacob Wingard, charged with killing Thomas Pizer both of whom resided at Leland Mines, near Smoke Run. The shooting occurred at Leland Mines about 10 o'clock Thursday.

Pizer who was a one-legged man, aged about 50 years, separated from his wife about two years ago, frequent quarrels making it impossible for them to live together. Much of the time since Wingard, who is a single man, aged about 35 years, has been living with Mrs. Pizer and her son, a young lad aged about 12 years.

Friday night, at the hour indicated, Pizer called at the house and asked to see his son. Wingard told him the boy was sleeping, and that he could not see him. Wingard alleges that Pizer then drew and snapped a revolver at him, and in self-defence he picked up a double-barrel shot gun he had at hand and shot Pizer. The load of shot from one of the barrels entered his right breast, and in five or ten minutes Pizer was a dead man.

Immediately after the shooting Wingard gave himself up to the authorities, and after having been committed to jail by M F. Mitchell, justice of the peace, of Ramey, he was kept all night in the lock up at the latter place, and Friday morning taken by Constable McCnlley, as indicated above, to Clearfield jail.

It is asserted that Pizer had told different people he meant to kill Wingard when he had an opportunity, and the latter was unaully on his guard and his shot gun in readiness when Pizer called last night. Had he not shot the latter, he claims Pizer would have killed him. —Philipsburg Journal.

The 1908 Baseball Guide.

John J. McGraw's official base ball guide for 1908 just published is one of the most complete books of the kind ever published. It contains everything that is of interest to the enthusiasts and a special feature is a chapter on the famous spit ball with illustration showing how that wonderful curve can be mastered. The guide has many full page illustrations and contains instructions how to play every position on the nine, and a feature is made of the art of pitching a curved ball. It has all the official rules for the past season championship game, schedules for the season's games, averages and standing of all the leagues. It is No. 18 of Fox's Athletic Library and will be sent to any address for 10 cents with 4 cents extra to pay postage. Address Richard K. Fox, Franklin Square, New York City.

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heartburn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.

The following leading medical authorities, among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, Phila.; Prof. H. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., Author of American Dispensatory; Prof. Jno. M. Scudder, M. D., Author of Specific Medicines; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Med. Dept. Univ. of N. Y.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., Author of Materia Medica and Prof. in Bennett Medical College, Chicago. Send name and address on Postal Card to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive free booklet giving extracts from writings of all the above medical authors and many others endorsing, in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient of which "Golden Medical Discovery" is composed.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They may be used in conjunction with "Golden Medical Discovery" if bowels are much constipated. They're tiny and sugar-coated.

The Faithful Little Guide.

Ofttimes I have seen a tall ship glide by against the tide as if drawn by some invisible towline with a hundred strong arms pulling it. Her sails hung unfilled; her streamers were drooping; she had neither side wheel nor stern wheel. Still she moved on stately in serene triumph, as if with her own life. But I knew that on the other side of the ship, hidden beneath the great hulk that swam so majestically, there was a little toiling steam tug with a heart of fire and arms of iron that was hugging it close and dragging it bravely on, and I knew that if the little steam tug untwined her arms and left the tall ship it would wallow and roll about and drift hither and thither and go off with refluent tide, no man knows whither. And so I have known more than one genius, high decked, full freighted, wide sailed, gay pennoned, that but for the bare tolling arms and brave, warm-beating heart of the faithful little wife that nestled close to him so that no wind or wave could part them would soon have gone down stream and been heard of no more.—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

A Fatal Sleep.

Hugh Miller, the Scottish geologist and writer, was one of the most illustrious of sleepwalkers. Miller, who had been addicted to somnambulism in his youth, found his restlessness return while he was engaged upon his "Testimony of the Rocks." He used to wake in the morning feeling, as he said, as if he had been abroad in the night wind, dragged by some invisible power and ridden by witches. On the night of his death he slept alone. In the morning they found him stretched dead on the floor with a bullet through his breast. He had written a note to his wife: "My brain burns. I must have walked, and a fearful dream rises upon me. I cannot bear the horrible thought. My brain burns as the recollection grows." So intense had been the poor fellow's anguish that to make certain his end he had torn back shirt and vest and placed the muzzle of the pistol to his naked flesh.—St. James' Gazette.

The Fractured Leg.

A visitor was going through the children's surgical ward of one of the city hospitals when he spied a little fellow with his legs in the air and his weight resting on his head and shoulders. Going closer, he saw that the boy's feet were fastened with ropes which passed through a pulley above. At the other ends of the ropes were weights, just heavy enough to hold the boy's legs in the air without lifting him entirely off the bed.

"What's all that about?" asked the visitor. "Doesn't it hurt him?"

"Not at all," answered the physician who was accompanying. "He doesn't look unhappy, does he? That's the way we always handle fractures of the leg with a child. Otherwise the youngsters squirm around so that they work the splints loose. Only one of this boy's legs is injured, but they are both swung in the air for his greater comfort."—New York Post.

Sorrows of a Humorist.

"This thing of being a humorist is about the saddest thing I know," sighed Simeon Ford. "An ordinary person can have his moods and humors as he pleases, but I must always be on the job. I am constantly being invited out, not because I'm liked for myself alone or because of my manly beauty, but because I am expected to entertain the assemblage. The rest of the company may be as dull as dishwater, but if I do not shake up the gathering with a few jokes the hostess glares at me and really feels resentful. I may be sunk in the slough of despond, but just as soon as I take my seat all lean forward and eye me expectantly. My son, never get a reputation for being funny. It is the most mournful thing on earth." —New York Press.

Teeth of Chambermaids.

Have you ever noticed that every chambermaid who has been taking care of the hay and feathers for a number of years is usually devoid of a few teeth of the upper "case?" Veteran chambermaids can seldom show a full set of upper teeth. The absence of the ivories is explained as follows by a downtown dentist: "The teeth of the maids which I replace with artificial ones are pillowcase teeth. They are constantly used in putting on pillowcases and are not strong enough to stand the strain. Their work is a constant wear and tear on the teeth."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Her Sponge Cake.

A young bride, after serving to her husband a Sunday dinner that was so-so, said as the mince pie was brought on, "I intended, dear, to have some sponge cake, too, but it has been a total failure." "How was that?" the husband asked in a disappointed tone, for he was fond of sponge cake. "The druggist," she explained, "sent me the wrong kind of sponges."

Plenty of Advice.

"I wonder what the secret of Solomon's wisdom was?" said Mr. Meekton's wife.

"Good advice," replied Leonidas promptly. "He had any number of wives."—Washington Star.

Had Her Doubts.

Mamma—You should be polite, dear, and offer to share your candy with papa. Little Margie—I would, mamma, if I was sure he'd be polite and refuse it.—Chicago News.

Facetious.

Customer—Have you anything that is good for falling hair? Facetious Clerk—How would a wastebasket do?

Be sure you can obey good laws before you alter bad ones.—Ruskin.

Deceived.

"I want to get a divorce from my wife."

"On what ground?"

"Well, I don't know the legal term for it, but she didn't tell me before I married her that she was an elocutionist."

The Cause.

Theater Goer—The love scene in your play isn't half so natural as it used to be last season. The same people do it too. Manager—Yes, but the lovers were married a few months ago.

Hard to Understand.

Bibbs — Some people get everything they go after. Gibbs—Yes, and others don't seem to get what's coming to them.—Smart Set.

A Dangerous Feat.

For a feat of dexterity and nerve it would be difficult to surpass that of the Bosjesman of South Africa, who walks quietly up to a puff adder and deliberately sets his bare foot on its neck. In its struggles to escape and attempts to bite its assailant the poison gland secretes a large amount of the venom. This is just what the Bosjesman wants. Killing the snake, he eats the body and uses the poison for his arrows.

Where Ma Was Strict.

Little Girl—My mamma is awful strict. Is yours? Little Boy—Orful. Little Girl—But she lets you go anywhere you want to and— Little Boy—Oh, she ain't strict with me. Little Girl—Then who is she strict with? Little Boy—Pa.

Wasteful.

Grasper (a very careful man)—No, I should never allow my daughter to marry a journalist. He always wastes one side of the paper. And still less should she wed a poet. He doesn't even go to the end of the line.

Suited the Case.

Tom—Here! You've started your note to Borroughs "Dr. Sir." Don't you know that sort of abbreviation is very slovenly? Dick—No, sir. "Dr." is all right in this case. He owes me money.—Kansas City Independent.

Result of Early Training.

Cobwigger—In what way does Newrich show that he isn't a gentleman? Merritt—By paying cash for everything he buys.—Tailor.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a flower which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. Few young women appreciate the shock of the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in renewed comeliness. More than a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and make its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine, nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Bad Symptoms. The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weaknesses and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional indorsement of each of its several ingredients—worth more than any number of ordinary non-professional testimonials. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath as complete and correct.

In any condition of the female system Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of the "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Doctor's All Agree. The most eminent writers on Materia Medica, whose works are consulted as authorities by physicians of all the different schools of practice, extol, in the most positive terms, the curative virtues of each and every ingredient entering into Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. In fact it is the only medicine, put up for sale through druggists for the cure of all diseases of the mucous surfaces, as nasal catarrh, throat, laryngeal, and bronchial affections attended by lingering, or hang-on-coughs that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any amount of lay or non-professional testimonials.

Do not expect too much from the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It will not work miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages. No medicine will. Nor is the "Discovery" so good for a sudden attack of acute cough, but for the lingering, obstinate, hang-on-coughs, accompanying catarrhal, throat, laryngeal and bronchial affections, it is a most efficacious remedy. In cases accompanied with wasting of flesh, night-sweats, weak stomach and poor digestion with faulty assimilation, and which, if neglected or badly treated are apt to lead to consumption, the "Discovery" has proven wonderfully successful in effecting cures.

The formula is printed on every wrapper of "Golden Medical Discovery," attested as to correctness under oath, and you can't afford to accept any substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret remedy no matter what selfish interests may prompt the dealer to urge such upon you. In fact it is an insult to your intelligence for him to do so. You know what you want and it is his place to supply that want.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by old Dr. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equaled. They cleanse, invigorate and regulate stomach, liver and bowels, curing biliousness and constipation. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter free of charge. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

No investment required. Business established. Previous experience not essential to engaging. Address, Manager Branches, 323 Dearborn St., Chicago.

If a cough once gets into your system it acts on every muscle and fibre of the body and makes you ache all over. It especially affects the intestines and makes you constipated, so in order to get rid of a cold thoroughly and without delay you should not take anything that will tend to constipate. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts upon the bowels and thereby drives the cold out of the system. It contains no opiates—it is pleasant to take and is highly recommended for children. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

THE WOMAN WHO COUGHED.

Catarrh had nearly ruined me. It had eaten away the partition in my nose; produced Asthma, Bronchitis, Rheumatism; ruined my stomach; in fact, gone all through my system. Then Grip finished me. I was a wreck; took cold at nothing; and coughed day and night. The doctors dosed me with opium and quinine. No good. Cough 'cures'? Bah! Then Brazilian Balm renovated me. Killed every germ. Took 10 $1.00 bottles. Now I'm like a girl of 18.

FARMERS' WIVES TELL WHAT THEY KNOW ABOUT PE-RU-NA.

Peruna Is Used In the Farmer's Home for all Sorts of Catarrhal Ailments.

Now Perfectly Healthy.

Mrs. Magdalena Winkler, Route 5, Westminster, Md., writes:

"I thank you very much for your advice. I can safely say that Peruna and Manalin have saved my life.

"When I wrote to you the first time, asking your advice, my condition was so poor that I did not expect to live through the winter, but now I am perfectly healthy.

"I cannot praise your medicine enough, and I recommend it to others."

Catarrh of Stomach.

Mrs. Mary Allen, Route 6, Franklin, Tenn., writes:

"I am glad to be able to tell you that I am well of catarrh of the stomach, for which I am sincerely thankful to you for your advice. If it had not been for Peruna I would never have been well.

"I had three physicians. One of them told my husband that he could not cure me.

"I had been sick about nine months when a friend asked me to try Peruna to gratify her; so I commenced taking it.

"I can eat and walk and work. Everybody says I look as well as I ever did.

"Oh, you don't know how thankful I do feel to you.

"I have got several other people to take Peruna. I praise it to everybody."

For Children's Colds.

Mrs. Henry Martin, La Motte, Ia., R. R. No. 1, writes:

"After suffering for some time with sore eyes I was advised by a friend to try Peruna, which I did at once.

"The first bottle relieved me, and after using four bottles I was entirely cured.

"I do recommend Peruna to all who are afflicted with catarrh. I have found it to be a great remedy also for coughs and colds of children; a dose at bedtime will relieve them from coughing all night. I always keep it on hand, and recommend it."

Catarrh for Seven Years.

Mrs. T. Frech, R. R. No. 1, Hickory Point, Tenn., writes: "I am happy to tell you that I am cured of catarrh. I have followed your good and kind advice faithfully. I bless the day when I wrote you of my condition, and I will always praise Peruna. I think it is one of the grandest medicines on earth.

"Having been afflicted with catarrh and stomach trouble for seven years, and after having tried four different doctors they only relieved me for a little while. I gave up all hope of being cured. I only weighed one hundred and thirty pounds, and was so weak I could hardly get around the room.

"I was induced to try Peruna, and to my great surprise I am now entirely well. My weight is now one hundred and eighty-eight pounds, my health never was better in my life, I shall always praise Dr. Hartman and his remedies."

Indigestion and Nervousness.

Mrs. Lenora Bodenhamer, R. F. D. 1, Box 29, Kernersville, North Carolina, writes the following letter to The Peruna Drug Manufacturing Company:

"I suffered with stomach trouble and indigestion for some time, and nothing that I ate agreed with me.

"I was very nervous and experienced a continual feeling of uneasiness and fear.

"I took medicine from the doctor, but it did me no good. I found in one of your Peruna books a description of my symptoms. I then wrote to Dr. Hartman for advice. He said I had catarrh of the stomach.

"I took Peruna and Manalin and followed his directions and can now say that I feel as well as I ever did.

"I hope that all who are afflicted with the same symptoms will take Peruna, as it has certainly cured me."

The Farmer's Wife.

Who is in a better position to know than the farmer's wife herself what is required in the farmer's home? She must meet its troubles, solve its problems, ward off disease, nurse the sick, she must do all these things herself, and she learns by valuable experience what is best and what is not best.

In numberless farm homes Peruna is relied upon as the family medicine. Peruna books are consulted in health and disease. Peruna is used as a preventive as well as a corrective in disease.

The wives of the farmers of the United States constitute a solid phalanx in favor of Peruna. Against this testimony the slanders of a few critics will not prevail. One sensible mistress of a farm home who has used Peruna knows more about Peruna than all the magazine critics in the world.

Peruna in Her Home.

Mrs. Anna Linder, R. F. D. No. 5, Dassel, Meeker Co., Minn., writes: "For two years I suffered with that terrible disease, chronic catarrh.

"Fortunately I saw your advertisement in my paper and I spoke to my sister about your medicine. She wrote to you and I got your advice free of charge. I took Peruna and am well and a mother of two children.

"I owe it all to Peruna. I would not be without that great tonic for ten times its cost, for I am well and strong now, and cannot speak in too high terms of its value as a medicine."

In a letter dated June 12, 1906, Mrs. Linder writes: "I cannot express my thanks enough to you for all the good your medicine has done for me and my family. This spring I took cold and it settled in my kidneys. At first I thought it was kidney trouble.

"I took Peruna as directed on the bottle and in a few days I was all right, so I owe my health to Dr. Hartman and his remedy."

Miserable With Catarrh.

Mrs. Hettie Green, R. R. 6, Iuka, Ill., writes: "Last November I had catarrh, and felt so miserable, I thought that I would go into consumption.

"I tried so many doctors and medicines, but nothing did me any good, only Peruna.

"After I began the use of Peruna I began to improve in every way.

"My head does not hurt so much, my stomach is all right, my bowels are regular, my appetite good, my complexion clear, my eyes are bright, and I am gaining in flesh and strength.

"I think Peruna has no equal as a catarrh remedy."

MHE men who were nominated on the Republison ticket last Saturday for Congress, Assembly and the county offices, are the custodians of the party's principles and it the duty of all Republicans to close up ranks and give full support to the men chosen. The nominees are the choice of the majority and no candidate or his friends has any reason to refuse to abide by the decision. The ticket chose is a good one and no one should feel disposed to withhold his support because of any dissatisfaction.

GOV. Johnson, of Minnesota says that "Bryan is a has been," and judging from the many remarks he has made about Mr. Bryan that gentleman has little confidence in the common sense of the Nebraskan whom he has set out to defeat.

IT's a Republican year and the signs all point to a triumph of the party of progress and prosperity. Of course, the negative organization will pull against the stream ard will make a desperate bluff until the people shall have once more declared themselves.

TIMES are not what they should be says an exchange, and there are a lot of men and women out of work who want it. At least a prominent labor unionist says there are more than four million in need of employment; but if you think the country is on the verge of stagnation because the people are unemployed go out and hunt up a good dressmaker for a few days' work to be done right away or look about to get a man to do some plumbing, or carpentering, or work on the farm, or do a good job of house painting. It may be you will find them right away, and many of them wanting the job, but if you do you will have better success at it than some people who want help right now.

Roosevelt's 1909 Vacation.

President Roosevelt's program for after March 4, 1909, will be of universal interest. It will attract almost as much attention abroad as at home. Our President is very popular among foreigners and now that it is announced with apparent authority that it is his purpose to take a long holiday in foreign travel at the end of his term it will be difficult for him to escape the invitations that will be showered upon him. Some of them he could not well decline, if he would, and it is probable that he will permit himself to be entertained, in some degree at least. He has had a strenuous time in office and it is not probable that the concluding months of his administration will be quiet ones, so that it will readily conceded that if any man will need a rest after March 4 next he will. But we know how the President rests—by doing something else just as strenuously as the things which he has been doing. It is to be expected, therefore, that his holiday abroad will be full of life and movement.

Mine Scale Signed.

Miners and operators of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana have agreed to continue for two years on last year's scale, the base of which is 90 cents a ton for mining. This happy outcome of the inter-State conference in Toledo was early indicated, but its final accomplishment is none the less gratifying. It is expected the mines in the Pittsburg district will be operating next week. There are good orders on hand and these are increasing. The resumption of work at this time will also enable preparation for the lake shipping season, which will open late this year, but will require almost the usual tonnage. The settlement will, moreover, enable manufacturers to make contracts on a secure basis for production and so help general improvement in business.

THAT CENTRE—CLINTON LEAGUE.

Is Going to Make Quite a Stir in Baseball this Season.

A full account of the meeting of the baseball meeting at Snow Shoe did not reach us till Saturday and we are certain that it will interest all the local fans. It follows:

The executive committee of the Clinton and Centre Counties Base Ball League met at Snow Shoe last Wednesday and adopted rules and regulations governing the season of 1908. A schedule was also adopted and is being printed and will be ready for distribution April 25th. W. W. Reading, president of the league represented Mill Hall; Manager, Budinger, Snow Shoe; Williams, Beech Creek; Harvey, Orvis; Johnson and Rich, Woolrich and Chester Moore represented Howard, manager Joe Deihl being unable to attend. July 23 was named as athletic day for the league, on which date a monster picnic will be held at Snow Shoe. Two championship games of baseball will be played during the day, and there will be all kinds of amusement. In the evening a comedy drama will be presented in the pavilion. A good band and orchestra will be in attendance. Dancing will be one of the amusements. The park is a most commodious one and there will be plenty of room for thousands of people. Special trains and rates will be furnished by all railroads entering Snow Shoe. The season for the league will open Saturday May 2nd, with Woolrich at Mill Hall, Beech Creek at Howard, Orvis at Snow Shoe, 2 games. After having concluded the business of the meeting the visitors were entertained at a banquet at the Mountain house, as the guests of the manager of the club of that place.

Special Notice.

The lack of enforcing out Curfew Law is lamentably apparent. The necessity for such an ordinance is in its self of sufficient gravity to induce its enforcement. This is not a work now to be done by any philanthropic society but the appeal is made to the good citizenship of our town, who have given to us this ordinance for the safe guarding of our boys and girls. Those responsible for this neglect should be dealt with or replaced by those who will do their duty. The expense and object of the Juneville Court will be very materially advantaged by prompt and decisive action on this matter.

Correspondence.

Howard.

Harry Hannon and wife, of Altoona, were visitors among relatives in town over Easter. Harry was formerly a Howard boy and for many years was employed by Dr. I. R. Henry. He had not been here for a number of years and his many friends were glad to see him.

THE CAMPAIGN

Hurrah! For the coming campaign,
And our favorite candidate.
Hurrah! For the man of great brain,
Who shall guide the ship of the state.

Whoever may be the nominee,
On one party or the other,
Surely everyone will agree
To support him as a brother.

The next president for Americans,
May be, or rather, in fact,
Will be, of the Republicans,
Or else a sound Democrat.

The Republicans have seven
Names that they will mention,
And many ballots to be given,
At their Chicago convention.

There is Roosevelt and Fairbanks,
Taft, Foraker and Hughes,
Knox and Cannon, all clear planks
The convention won't refuse.

The Democrats will have five
Good names to remember,
When at their busy "bee-hive,"
In the city of Denver.

For Berry and Gray and Harmon
Are names quite prominent;
Yet "Bill" Bryan and John Johnson
Seem to be predominent.

Of all the many candidates,
And I'm sure, I'm not lyin'
The strongest of the Democrats,
Is William Jennings Bryan.

Then, on the Republican side,
From amongst the whole "raft,"
The strongest one, we decide,
Is secretary William H. Taft.

The usual Spring work has commenced in earnest. A number of fences are being erected or repaired, accumulations of the winter are being disposed of and garden making, which comes with clock-like regularity, is receiving an unusual amount of attention this spring. There is no need for any one to be out of work, and it brings to mind the adage. "The man that will work, can work, and the man that won't work, don't have to work."

The wheel of industry again turned in our community when J. T. Lucas started his saw-mill and planeing-mill and the familiar hum of the saw and toot of the whistle reminds us that the business depression has not yet shut down all business enterprises.

Wm. Colver and wife of Buffalo, are visiting at the home of his brother at this place.

Prof. Albert Lucas of Altoona spent Sunday at the home of his parents here

Clemintine Cramer has gone to Pine Glen, where she will reside for an indefinite time.

Edward Shannon, having gone through quite a serious stage of sickness, is around again and able to attend to his business affairs as usual.

Millheim.

Surprises were many at the primaries and some ill feelings manifested thereby.

D. J. Neiman has removed the shed roof at his store building and it will be replaced by an up-to-date awning.

Mrs. Polly Lamey relict of the late Michael Lamey a veteran of the civil war received a widow's pension of eight dollars per month last week.

On account of the inclement weather on last Wednesday the opening of the trout season not many of the speckled beauties were caught. The largest trout caught in Elk Creek was 18 inches.

F. T. Baker, of Lewisburg; J. C. Moyer, of Sunbury; J. N. Schoonover, of Philipsburg; S. B. Horton, New York; S. E. Erwin of Addison; C. R. Creveling of Bloomsburg; Charles E. Duncan, of Shamokin; S. A. Wahl and F. S. Allen, of Pittsburg; George N. Fisher Boalsburg; and B. D. Tate of Bellefonte were in town last week.

The National Hotel is receiving some needed improvements in the interior. The entire first floor will be re-painted and re-papered, Charles F. Miller an expert mechanic is doing the work.

Mr. Henry Miller who has been sick for some years is not improving very fast.

If reports are correct there will be a wedding in the near future.

Charles W. Haslett hat salesman of Mifflinburg was in town this week.

Milesburg

Tanneyhill Taylor of Altoona, and Brice Taylor of Clearfield, are guests of the Taylor sisters at this place.

At a game of baseball on Saturday between Unionville and Milesburg, Henry Kohlbecker's bird dog held the game up for about 5 minutes. The dog had spied a bird and was slowly creeping up to catch it, drawing all attention from the game and causing much excitement among the players. The Milesburg team won the game by a score of 25 to 12.

John Peace sold his family horse to Thomas Malone. Recently he lost a valuable cow which had to be shot on account of having tuberculosis. She was giving 20 quarts of milk a day.

Miss Bess Hall who has been visiting her brothers at Osceola Mills, has returnhome.

Rev. M. C. Piper will deliver a sermon on Sunday morning, to the members of Bald Eagle Lodge No. 410 I. O. O. F. in the M. E. church at 10 30 a. m. All are invited to be present, it being the 86 anniversary of the organization of Odd Fellowship, members will meet in the hall at 10 a. m. sharp.

Fowler.

Miss Allie McMonigal of Bellwood spent a few days with friends at this place.

Mr. John T. Fowler who has been very ill is somewhat improved at this writing.

Calvin Orwick is very sick with appendicitis.

Robert Orwick is all smiles over a little son who has come to make his home with him.

They are erecting an iron bridge at Fowler which will be quite an improvement to the place.

Our farmers are very busy with the farm work

Miss Mary Fowler and Emma Moser Sundayed at Fort Matilda.

Mrs. Ephram Dodds and children spent a week with her brother and sister at Guyer.

Centre Mills

Reverend Meeha passed this way with his horse and has moved to Lock Haven staying all night at the home of J. A. Kline. He has been a faithful minister and we are sorry to see him go.

J. K. Meyers and family, and Mr. Zigler and wife took dinner with Bruce Meyers on Easter Sunday.

George W. Kline and best friend spent Easter at State College with his sister Mrs. Margaret Bailey.

COURT PROCLAMATION—Whereas the Honorable Ellis L. Orvis, President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the 49th Judicial District, consisting of the county of Centre, having issued his precept, bearing date the 26th, day of Mar. 1908, to me directed for holding a Court of Common Pleas, Orphans' Court, Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery, in Bellefonte, for the County of Centre and to commence on the 3rd MONDAY OF MAY,

being the 19th day of May 1908, and to continue two weeks. Notice is hereby given to the coroner, justice of the peace, aldermen and constables of said County of Centre, that they be then and there in their proper persons, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of the 19th, with their records, inquisitions, examinations, and their own remembrances to do those things which to their office appertains to be done, and those who are bound in recognizances to prosecute against the prisoners that are or shall be in the jail of Centre county be then and there to prosecute against them as shall be just.

Given under my hand, at Bellefonte, the 21st day of April 1908, in the year of our Lord 1908 and the one hundred and thirty-fifth year of the independence of the United States. HENRY KLINE, Sheriff.

Sheriff's Office, Bellefonte, Pa April 21st.

When the maker of a medicine, sold through druggists for family use, takes his patients fully into his confidence by frankly and fearlessly publishing broadcast as well as on its bottle wrappers, a full list of all its ingredients in plain English, this action on his part is the best possible evidence that he is not afraid to have the search light of investigation turned full on his formula and that it will bear the most thorough investigation. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of weakness, periodical pains and functional derangements of the organs distinctly feminine, is a medicine put up for sale through druggists for woman's special use, the maker of which takes his patients into his full confidence by open and honest publicity.

A glance at the published ingredients on each bottle wrapper, will show that it is made wholly from native, American medicinal roots that it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs, no narcotics and no alcohol—pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol, both for extracting and preserving the active medicinal properties found in the roots of the American forest plants employed. If interested, send name and address to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his little book of extracts from the works of eminent medical writers and teachers, endorsing the several ingredients and telling just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of. It's free for the asking.

FIUE WARNING ON DOOR

A Montgomery Company is Wondering if Notice is a Joke.

WORK OF BLACK HAND

Believed to be the Work of Tramps who Were Refused a Night's Lodging.

WATCHMAN IS STILL ON HIS JOB

Montgomery, April 14.—The residents of this borough have been affected to a greater or less degree—in an amusing manner and others seriously—by a warning notice which was tacked on the door of one of the leading industries of the town several days ago. The matter treated by most people as a huge joke, while there are some of the more timid citizens who see in it a portentious phase One night last week several tramps appeared at the plant of the Montgomery Door and Sash company and asked that permission be given them to spend the night in the building. This being against the rules of the company was refused by the watchman, at which the tramps left the place and went up the street a square where they surreptitiously entered the planing mill of Thomas Deutschle & company. Here they spent the night. As they left the plant the next morning one of the tramps remarked to the watchman that they would get revenge upon the watchman or the owners of the other mill. Accordingly several mornings later a notice was found tacked upon one of the doors of the plant, written upon a small piece of paper, warning the company to beware that on Easter Sunday, April 19 their plant would be set on fire and burned to the ground. This notice was discovered early in the morning and removed before it was seen by many passersby. The next morning the same warning appeared on the door, written on the boards in chalk. The lettering in the warning in both instances was rather peculiar. The words were printed and signed with a blackened hand. The lettering it rather amateurish, thus giving rise to the theory that the warnings were the trick of school boys. The watchman at the plant is somewhat exercised over the matter, but he hasn't left his job.

The company is inclined to take the warnings as jokes, supposing that some one is attempting to force the watchman to give up his position.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

LISBETH'S LESSON.

.....By LESTER ROSE.

Copyrighted, 1908, by the Associated Literary Press.

Lisbeth straightened up, with a sigh, and wriggled her fingers, bent and almost distorted by constant work with the needle. The sharp eyed forewoman hurried toward her.

"So you have done it at last?" she asked. "I was beginning to think that you never would get it done."

"I hurried all I could," said Lisbeth patiently. "There is an awful lot of stitches in that dress, Miss Brady."

"All the more need for working quickly," snapped the forewoman. "Mrs. Cryder has telephoned three times since 4 o'clock."

As she spoke she was rapidly examining the work, but even her critical glance could discover no defect, and with a last deft touch she shook out the heavy folds and prepared it for packing, while Lisbeth hurried off to the little cupboard, by courtesy termed a dressing room, and exchanged her working clothes for the neat street dress.

She made what speed she could, for Tommy Ranson was coming to take her to a dance and she must have time to primp before she could make her one well worn party dress presentable. She had reached the door when Miss Brady's shrill voice arrested her steps.

"You'll have to take this home," she declared. "I told Sally to wait for it, but here she's gone. I suppose she'll turn up in the morning and declare that she never heard me. That girl is the daughter of Ananias."

Miss Brady extracted the pencil that was stuck through her back hair and wrote an address on the box; then she searched her pocketbook for a dime. Something in Lisbeth's face caught her attention.

"I'm sorry if you're going out this evening," she said, more kindly, "but you know what Mrs. Cryder is, and if I sent it up by a messenger boy he'd stop to play craps or something. Were you going out?"

Lisbeth nodded. "A friend's going to take me to a dance," she explained simply. "I guess I'll be in time, though," she added hopefully.

"AN ACCIDENT OF MARRIAGE," EXPLAINED MARIE.

Miss Brady caught up a bow of ribbon from the work table and gave it to the girl.

"Pin that in your hair when you dress," she said kindly. "It'll look fine against your black hair. Perhaps your beau'll pop when he sees how fine you are."

"It won't do no good," contended Lisbeth. "He did pop. I don't want to marry a man who can't make a home for me. I'd have to keep on working if I marry Tommy."

"There's worse things than work," reminded Miss Brady as she helped Lisbeth through the door with the box.

The cars were crowded with homegoers as Lisbeth came out upon the street. Not even the gift of the bow had lightened the gloom upon her usually pretty face, and as she clung to a strap and sought to protect the precious box from injury she gave rein to her imagination.

Mrs. Cryder, for whom the dress was intended, was one of Mlle. Celeste's best customers. Lisbeth knew her well—a proud, pale lady, whose dresses were the envy of the entire shop. The girls searched the society columns of the papers for reports of parties at which she was a guest and took a half personal pride in the descriptions of her elaborate costumes.

It was Mrs. Cryder who had given Lisbeth her dislike for the life she led. The girl had once helped Miss Brady with a fitting, and Mrs. Cryder had beguiled the time in chat with a friend who accompanied her, ignoring the two women who were working on the gown.

Lisbeth had gone back to the workroom with new ideas in her foolish little head. Mrs. Cryder had bewailed the fate in store for a friend who had married a man with only $50,000. Tommy with his $3 a day had suddenly become an undesirable suitor.

Lisbeth gave rein to her fancy now as the car sped uptown. She wished that she might be like Mrs. Cryder. There would be no dress to deliver when she wanted to go to a ball, and she could go to balls every night in the week if she so desired and to the operas and dinners.

The dinners in particular appealed to her. Her stomach was crying aloud the fact that two slices of bread and butter and a thin wedge of cake was scarcely a satisfying luncheon preparation for a delayed dinner. Hunger added to Lisbeth's gloom.

Her dissatisfaction with her lot increased as she entered the Cryder home and was escorted to the lady's apartments. The hurried maid received her and, with her help, unpacked the dress. It lay on the bed, a shimmer of pale green and silver, as Mrs. Cryder entered.

Her face was wan and white save where a red mark crossed one cheek. The grande dame was lost in the woman, and Marie had to help her mistress to a chair and bathe her face with cologne while Lisbeth finished the unpacking.

"Was there an accident?" whispered Lisbeth as Mrs. Cryder tottered into the dressing room and Marie came toward the dress again.

"An accident of marriage," explained Marie, with a shrug of her fragile shoulders that bespoke her beloved Paris. "It is evident that monsieur is drunk again. Ah, well, madame married for the money. With it she has to take monsieur, for, unfortunately, he cannot drink himself to death, though he tries hard, poor man."

"I suppose that she will not need the dress, after all," suggested Lisbeth as she smoothed out the shimmery folds.

"But yes," insisted Marie. "Well or ill, one must be seen at the ball or else one is not fashionable. Poor madame! Truly she works harder than you or I, who have not appearances to keep up. The dress is charming, mademoiselle. It will not be that you need wait."

With a nod she dismissed Lisbeth, who hurried down the stairway. The downtown cars were less crowded, and Lisbeth found a seat. With her hands tucked into her pockets, the right clutching the dainty bow Miss Brady had given her, Lisbeth again was lost in her thoughts.

But this time the thoughts were vastly different. She was thinking of the price Mrs. Cryder paid for the luxury with which she was surrounded. She had married for money, married a drunkard whom she could not love. If Tommy ever dared to treat her in such a fashion— Lisbeth blushed at the thought as she signaled the conductor for her crossing.

Tommy was waiting for her in the tiny parlor when her toilet was completed.

"My, but you look swell," he cried appreciatingly as his eyes rested upon the saucy bow against the coal black hair.

"Who gave you that hair ribbon?"

"Miss Brady," exclaimed Lisbeth, blushing again as she thought of Miss Brady's prophecy. "Do you like it?"

"Put it away," he commanded. "Don't waste it now. I want you to wear that when we get married."

"Who said we're going to get married?" demanded Lisbeth aggressively, wishing that her cheeks would not rival the ribbon in tint.

"I did," admitted Tommy placidly. "We're going to get married week after next. I got my pay raised, and I can afford it."

"You've got a nerve," scoffed Lisbeth, but she let him clasp her in his arms, and as he pressed her cheeks with eager lips she remembered the scene in the Cryder home. She had had her lesson, and her intended rejection of Tommy Ranson's love was forgotten.

He Asked For Stale Bread.

The sympathetic young woman was telling the story. "I went into a bakery to buy some supplies, and as I was waiting for the girl behind the counter to do them up the door opened, letting in a man, unshaved, unwashed, unkempt, with a thin coat buttoned tightly around his neck.

"'Got any stale bread?' he asked the clerk diffidently.

"'No. We keep only fresh bread here,' the lady replied haughtily.

"The man turned around with a weary droop to his shoulders and passed out into the night. All my Samaritan impulses welled up. I gave the haughty clerk a reproachful look and hurried after him. He had stopped in the middle of the next block and was looking around uncertainly.

"I ran up breathlessly and, holding out my last dime to him, panted out:

"'Are you so hungry? Here, please take this.'

The man stared and then slowly grinned as he replied:

"'Why—why, no, miss, I ain't hungry, but I've got some chickens I want to feed!'"—New York Press.

He Kept His Job.

Railroads frequently receive conscience money. On one of the big roads of the middle west a conductor who had been in the employment of the company for years was in the habit of "knocking down" fares. The fare over his route was about $3. Money was generally scarce among the students, and when they wished to go to the larger city they were in the habit of taking a silver dollar, placing it under a card of any kind and handing it to the aged conductor when he came to take up the tickets. He used to slip the dollar into the palm of his hand, punch the card, and the students saved $2 a trip, the conductor pocketing the extra dollar. In October, 1904, the officials of the road were astounded to get, together with his resignation, a full confession of his guilt in the form of a check for $24,000, the sum he had stolen in twenty years. Every one thought the road would prosecute the old man, but it didn't. The officials were so flabbergasted that instead of discharging him they raised his salary.—St. Louis Republic.

ONLY ONE.

If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ill and is looking for relief and cure, better depend on the only remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve quickly—cure permanently. Bellefonté citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

Mrs: Emma J. Davis of E. Logan St. Bellefonte, Pa. says; I have a great deal of confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills, and have already recommended them in a published testimonial in 1897. I told how I had been relieved of kidney complaint and backache which had kept me suffering for years. Doan's Kidney Pills did this for me when other remedies had failed. Whenever I feel any symptom of my old trouble I send to F. Potts Green's drug store for a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills and it never requires more than a few doses to get me right."

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the sneeze stage—they break, or head off these early colds. That's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics.

Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child, if there is feverishness, night or day, Herein probably lies Preventics' greatest efficiency. Sold in 5c boxes for the pocket, also in 25c boxes of 48 Preventics. The Bellefonte Republican

TO CORRESPONDENCE.—No communication published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

Correspondents should write upon but one side of the paper and avoid the use of pale or fancy inks.

EARLE C. TUTEN.

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—Trailing arbutus is now in blossom and is being sought by many.

—Williamsport defeated State by a score of 4 to 3 Thursday afternoon.

—The wheat fields throughout the county present the appearance of a good crop.

—Mr. and Mrs. Simon Shillings are rejoicing over the arrival of a lovely baby girl.

—The population of State College is materially decreased by the Easter exodus of the students.

—Work has been commenced on the branch of the Patrons Rural Telephone company between Centre Hall and Penns Cave.

—Miss Nellie Smith and Mr. Andrew Marks, both of Beech Creek, were married Snuday in Lock Haven by Rev. Wm. Grant.

—For beauty and neatness in construction the new Ford demonetrating machine which Will Ketchline is driving is a dandy.

—Rev. Dr. William Laurie returned home Wednesday from Altoona where he attended the sessions of the Huntingnon Presbytery.

—Miss Snyder wishes to announce to her patrons that she will have on display April 17th, a fine line of ladies hat models, dressland tailored hats.

—The Bellefonte Central Railroad company is enlarging their quarters at Coleville by the erection of an addition to the round house at Coleville.

—Brass thieves reached the limit at Harrisburg Tuesday night when they carried off the 150 pound bell of an engine which had been stored on a siding.

—The Williamsport and Lycoming tents of the Maccabees were united Tuesday evening. The officers of the greater tent were installed by Deputy Reone P. Kuntz, of Pitteburg.

—Among the new spring creations is the "Merry Widow" hat which is constructed on broad principles and perhaps designed for the country lasses rather than the town belles.

—The home of Mr. David McMullen, of Connellsville who husband is in jail, was burned Tuesday night. Mrs. McMullen has 10 children and had been supporting the family by washing.

—A grip containing two nitroglycerine bombs made from tin cans and two boxes of 38 calibre cartridges were found at Derry Tuesday afternoon. It is believed that the bombs were to be used in blowing up the bank.

—The City of Franklin has decided in favor of $260,000 bond issue for the purchase of the water plant. The project has been agitated for 20 years but did not take definite form till after the typhoid fever edidemic last fall.

—Gen. James A. Beaver, was present at the meeting of the Huntingdon Presbytery in Altoona Tuesday evening and made an address in the interest of the laymen's committee on evangelistic work urging the speedy raising of a guarantee fund of 5,000.

—County Superintendent D. O. Etters has issued a call for a convention of the school directors of Centre county to convene in the Court house on Tuesday, May 5th, at eleven o'clock to elect a successor to the office of superintendent. So far as we know Mr. Etters is the only aspirant.

—Bellefonte had an elaborateate display of Easter flowers last week, there being four places in town where beautiful plants and flowers and numerous species are for sale. Lovers of flowers have been busy since the arrival of fine displays in amiring their beauty and fragrance.

—Mrs. Margaret Henderson, widow of Dr. W. B. Henderson, at one time a prominent physician of Lewistown, died at the home of her son W. B. Henderson in Philipsburg Tuesday morning. She had been visiting in Philipsburg and Osceola and went to stay a few days with her son, preparatory to returning to her home in Lewistown. She was 84 years of age. Surviving her are three sons, Dr. James L., of Osceola; Joseph, of Lewistown, and W. B. of Philipsburg.

—The slow manner in which the primary election returns were received has kept the candidates in a state of anxiety for several days. There is still an uncertainty in regard to several of the aspirants. Some of the papers in the district concede the national delegate nomination to Col. W. Fred Reynolds and H. L. Boulton, while some claim that Emery has a majority over Reynolds. The Democratic nominess for delegate to the national convention are James Kerr and N. B. Spangler.

—The L. and T. pay train made its monthly call to Bellefonte Saturday.

—See "Parsifal" at the Theatorium tonight. Adults 10 cents children 5 cents.

—Joe Barnes, driver of the Adams Express company's wagon, has been laying off the past week on account of his health. During this time the deliveries were made by Hasting Gates.

—The attractions at the millinery and flower stores and the Theatorium brought out so many people on Friday evening that the the streets of Bellefonte reminded one of being in a large city.

—The Union Saw company of Williamsport, which was recently organized, has recived an order for 60,000 hand saws. At present the works employ 25 men but it will require about 60 days to turn out the order.

—The song recital's programe will be presented by Miss Isabel Buchanan accompanied by Miss Rebecca Lyons. Miss Buchanan has sung in operas in the Philadelphia Academy of Music this winter to enthusiastic audiences.

—The frame work of Forrest Bullock's new blacksmith shop on Water street was put up this week and the work of laying the concrete blocks is now under way. It will make a substantial as well as handsome building when completed.

—Miss Myra Freeman of Tyrone entertained a party at the club house over Sunday. Among those present were: Misses Lou Rowland, of Philipsburg; Kate Brisbin, Marie Walsh, Helen Ceader, Hugh Crider, Marrie Jackson, Bert Robb and Willis Gephart.

—The Howard Hustler says that J. B. Wezel and C. C. Cooke under the firm of the Howard Lumber Co., have purchased about 300 acres of timber land on the mountain west of Howard and will erect a saw mill on the tract and will have quite a large job

—April weather is notoriously fickle. When the prematurely oppressive days come it may not be unwise to remember the old proverb "Till April's dead change not a thread" It is desirable to err on the side of prudence and take no chances of incurring serious cold.

—As a precautionary move for the protection of the children in case of a fire the Bellefonte school board has had the doors of the school buildings changed to swing out instead of in. This was done in order that the egress of the children would not be blocked in case of a fire and a rush to get out.

—Republican County Chairman Harry Keller will not try trout fishing for a few days at least. On Wednesday morning he stepped on a rusty spike which punctured his gum boot and which penetrated his foot an inch or more. Mr. Keller hurried home and had the wound properly cauterized to prevent the possibilities of blood poison or complications.

—Is it any wonder that the streams of Pennsylvania are being rapidly depleted of the most highly prized of all game fish trout. One of the Bellefonte rural mail carriers counted 297 fishermen on the Logan branch between the Pleasant Gap station and Bellefonte, a distance of three miles. It will not be long till a fish law against trout will not be needed for there will not be any.

—Very interesting and appropriate Easter services were held in the Methodist church Sunday evening under the auspices of the Sunday school. The children in recitations and songs told the story of the Resurrection and taught a lesson of the importance of sending the gospel to the heathen and telling them of the glorious Easter. The customary Easter offering for this purpose was received at this service. The services were beautiful and impressive and the children all did their parts well.

—That the women of Bellefonte are always on the alert for bargains was clearly demonstrated Friday when a huckster came into town and offered fresh hens eggs at 13 cents per dozen. He had made his first stop and it was soon whispered along the row that a man was selling eggs at 13 cents and they were 18 cents in the stores. The women came with aprons, baskets buckets or the nearest receptacle they could lay hands on and without driving his horse another step the huckster disposed of his two cases of eggs before all the customers had been supplied. He did not know that eggs had gone up and some of the women who had ordered eggs from the store did not get them and this was their golden opportunity

—A very delightful Easter entertainment was given by the children of the United Brethren church on Sunday evening. The exercises were a success throughout. The songs, recitations and drills were fine and were greatly enjoyed by the older folks. The music was rendered by Miss Susan Shope, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Shope. Miss Shope is everywhere noted for her musical skill and certainly did her part in making the entertainment a success. One of the most interesting parts of the program was a song by Miss Anna Poorman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Poorman, entitled "At Happy Easter Time." Her beautiful voice rang sweet and clear, and the audience was greatly pleased when she appeared a second time and sang, accompanied by Miss Nettie Shope. Every part of the program was interesting and greatly enjoyed by all present.

—The water has been into the fountains at the Court house.

—The State baseball team defeated the University of Virginia team Saturday by a score of 9 to 5

—The ticket chart for the Academy minstrels will be open for the sale of tickets on Monday, April 27th at 9 a. m.

—April is giving us some remarkably cold weather and it is reported that snow fell in some places in Centre county on Monday.

—Hospital benefit, Easter season is a singing time. Dont fail to go to the song recital, hear good singing, and thus contribute to the world's harmony by helping to heal the sick.

—The Bellefonte baseball team was defeated Tuesday by the Milesburg team by a score of 15 to 8. Lack of time and space does not permit the publishing of the score and line-up.

—The following donations were received from the St. John's Parochial School; 17½ dozen eggs, 2 bushels potatoes, 4 quarts fruit, 1 glass jelly, ½ dozen oranges and 2 pounds coffee.

—The 200.00 idle miners in the central competition district went to work on Monday. An agreement between miners and operators was reached Friday by the members of the scale committee.

—Clayton Brown thinks it is useless to catch trout under six inches in length and will hereafter catch only good sized ones. On Monday he was out a little while and landed seven that measured just 90 inches when laid in a string, or an average of about 13 inches.

—The Farm Journal is the boiled-down, hit-the-nail-on-the-head paper, cut to fit the wide awake farmer and villager. We club with the Farm Journal, and have an attractive combination subscription—Farm Journal five years, our paper one year, both for $1.25.

—Miss Mary Tohmas of Lemont died quite suddenly on Sunday. She had been in conversation with her sister when it was noticed she made no reply to some questions that was asked her, and it was found she was dying. Miss Thomas' funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon.

—It looked very discouraging on Sunday morning for those who intended to "Come Out" in their Easter attire. However there were only a few showers and although a little cloudy and cool it did not mar the church services or stay the formal transition from winter to spring. The afternoon was more pleasant than the forenoon the promenaders were quite numerous.

—The fire alarm sounded at noon Monday giving the out-of-town signal. The fire was at the farm residence of W. J. Ishler, at Dale Summit. There was no fire in the end of the house which caught on the roof and it is supposed that a spark was blown there by the strong wind. A hole was burned in the roof and by prompt action the flames were extinguished be several buckets of water.

—A petition is in circulation and being numerously signed, asking the Logan Valley Electric Railway company to discharge the foreign laborers in its employ and to hire in their stead American citizens, assigning as a reason that there are thousands of Americans out of employment in this country needing and seeking work, and whose families are suffering for the necessities of life.—Tyrone Herald.

—Mrs. David Wolf died at her home in Clintondale Monday morning at 8 o'clock of Bright's disease, aged 73 years. She was the mother of a large family of whom four sons and six daughters survive. Funeral services will be conducted at the Mt. Bethel church Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

—Hon. John A. Daley, of Curtin township, and lately a candidate for the nomination for county Commissioner, was in town on Tuesday and the writer was jesting with him about his defeat when he told us that matters more serious that were upon his mind. Those who have seen him lately perhaps noticed that the wound on his face is spreading and Mr. Daley has fears that in time it would injure his eye. He then stated that he expected to have it examined by a specialist on Wednesday and would probably submit to an operation to stay the spreading of the wound. Mr. Daley bears the wound as a badge of his service in the Civil war having received it there and has had more or less trouble with it at times. We hope that Mr. Daley may escape the use of the surgeon's knife and that he may speedily recover from his affliction.

L. Frank Mayes of Lemont was in town Wednesday and is doing some construction work in the markle and granite line.

Among our recent callers was A. A. Pletcher, of Howard, recently one of the candidates of the Democratic party for the nomination for register on that ticket. Mr. Pletcher is feeling none the worse for his having fallen short of the nomination and is receiving the congratulations of his friends for having made such a good run. He does not possess any of the spirit of resentment and cheerfully submits to the will of the majority. He will at once take up his work as representative for Christopher Sower & Co. of Philadelphia, publisher of text books. Mr. Pletcher has been representing that firm for several seasons and in him they find an agent of special merit.

Some Good Catches Reported.

While the weather Wednesday morning was not at all favorable for the going forth of the fishermen but rather had a tendency to discourage the piscatorial inclination of the lovers of the sport, some good catches were reported. The past winter was favorable for the propagation of trout but the streams have been high during the spring and the rain on the morning of the opening day of the season was not so favorable. However, many of the disciples of Izaak Walton sallied forth to the haunts of the beautiful fish and were quite successful in their efforts to land the most beautiful of the finny tribe. The largest catches were made up the Logan branch, the flood a short time ago having liberated quite a few at the hatchery. Among the good catches reported Wednesday evening are the following: Wm. Walker 35, Charles Anderson 31, W. C. Cassidy 24, W. L Malin 24, Ed Doll, of Altoona, 23, Jack Decker 19, James Furst 17.

Some of these were quite large, measuring as long as 16 inches. Quite a number were out again this morning but did not stay long as the weather was too cold. A report from Howard this morning stated that G. L. Williams had succeeded in reaching the limit of the law and brought home 50 of the coveted fish.

Met Bruin in the Road

A large bear standing in the middle of the pike, the other Saturday night, frightened Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bradford, of Centre Hall, and Mr. Fleck, of Pleasant Gap, who was walking across the mountain. The Bradfords were driving leisurely about midway between the top of Nittany Mountain and "Adams" road, when the horse threw his head up and began sniffing the air, plainly indicating that something unusual was wrong.

Just about that time Mr. Fleck struck a match to light a cigar, when to his horror he saw a large bear standing erect and immediately before him, with ivories exposed and uttering a challenging growl. After surveying the surroundings bruin dropped on all foure, and scampered up the mountain, and was soon out of sight, leaving Mr. and Mrs. Bradford and Mr. Fleck to decide whether the whole was on apparition or whether an embrace from bruin would been the thing.

Prominent Physician Dead.

Dr. Richard Armstrong, the oldest and most prominent physician in Lock Haven, died at his home in that place Friday morning. The doctor had been ill several months ago but recoverhd sufficiently so as to continue his practice. Last Saturday he suffered a relapse and effotrs of his fellow physicians to stay the progress of a complication of maladies, consisting of anthroma, or hardening of the arteries and cardiac asthma were of no avail.

Dr. Armstrong was born in Northumberland county apd was 76 years age. He practiced medicine in Lock Haven for 52 years, coming there before any railroad entered the town. He is survived by three daughters and one son W. N. Armstrong of Lock Haven. The funeral occured Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.
